THE PLATFORM.

The resolutions advocate tariff laws necessary for revenue, but with [illegible] labor and industrial enterprise they [illegible] the arbitrary [illegible] reduction proposed by the present house, and declare that in progressive changes in industrial conditions they recognize the necessity for a [illegible] of the tariff upon a scientific basis [illegible] that it may be considered as to its real [illegible] labor, capital, production and revenue. They believe in a sound currency based on [illegible] that the continued coinage of silver upon the present ratio and the issue of silver certificates are fraught with danger to financial affairs, and urge the suspension of compulsory coinage. They favor civil service reform, endorse President Arthur's administration and confide to the state delegates the responsibility of making a wise and faithful selection of candidates at the national convention for president and vice president. Adjourned.

Kansas Republican State Convention

TOPEKA, April 30.—The republican state convention assembled yesterday afternoon to select four delegates at large to the national republican convention at Chicago. Judge David Kelso was elected temporary chairman. After the appointment of the usual committees the convention adjourned until 7:30 P. M. On reassembling the committee on permanent organization reported Captain J. B. Johnson chairman and W. Walton secretary. On taking the chair Captain Johnson made a speech in vindication of the republican party and for harmony in the state and nation. Votes were taken regarding president at preferences resulting: Blaine 201, [illegible] 48, Edmunds 17, Arthur [illegible] scattering 12. Delegates at large were elected as follows: Hon. P. B. Plumb, John B. Morrett, J. A. Wood, A. W. Mann.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing Arthur's administration. Adjourned.

Maine Republican Convention

BANGOR, April 30.—The republican state convention organized with Orville D. Baker as president.

The resolutions adopted favor the protective policy, demand that our civil service be controlled by stricter business principles, and that it be placed beyond the dangers of party strife, urge a firm foreign policy, present the name of James G. Blaine as the choice for president, approve the present administration, express disapproval of the action of the democratic majority in congress upon the Morrison tariff bill and on the shipping bill, and reaffirm approval of the policy of prohibition.

Governor Frederick Robie was renominated by acclamation.

The following delegates at large to Chicago were chosen: J. D. Botwell, George C. Wing, Joseph S. Wheelwright and J. H. Drummond. Adjourned.

Massachusetts Democratic Convention

WORCESTER, Mass., April 30.—The democratic state convention was called to order by Noah A. Plympton, chairman of the state committee, who made an address eulogizing General Butler and arraigning the republican party.

A motion by William M. Simmons that it is the opinion of this convention that General Butler should be nominated for president at the national democratic convention, was adopted unanimously amid great enthusiasm.

The following were elected delegates at large: B. F. Butler, J. G. Abbott, M. J. McCafferty and James Delaney.

A motion to instruct the delegates to vote for Butler was tabled.

Vermont Republican Convention

MONTPELIER, Vt., April 30.—The republican state convention organized with James M. Tyler as president, who favored Edmunds and [illegible] and asked the convention to endorse the administration of Arthur.

J. Gresham Smith, Redfield Proctor, Frederick Billings and B. F. Harris were elected delegates at large to Chicago.

The resolutions reaffirm allegiance to republican principles, approve [illegible] demand revision [illegible] and reduction of taxation, present the name of Edmunds for president and instruct the delegates for him.

Michigan Greenback Convention

KALAMAZOO, April 30.—The convention of the national greenback party assembled. [illegible] C. S. Hamilton temporary chairman [illegible] denouncing the republican party as corrupt and recreant to its trusts. The democratic party was played out. The people were [illegible] and determined to have no more to do with it. He alluded to Butler as the coming man, which received great applause.

After the appointment of the usual committees the convention took a recess.

About 500 delegates are present. The feeling is strong for Butler and free trade.

Kentucky Colored Convention

LOUISVILLE, April 30.—The state colored convention assembled again this afternoon. The committee reported resolutions [illegible] national convention [illegible] the admission [illegible] the reaffirming [illegible] facilities in the state [illegible] protection [illegible] the republican party to make them hewers of wood and drawers of water. Delegates were appointed to the Richmond convention.

Phelps' Charges against Edmunds

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The following [illegible] change of letters between Senator [illegible] and William Walter Phelps concerning the [illegible] alleged [illegible] by the latter with regard to the former's alleged interest in securities of the Burlington and Missouri Railroad company whose land grant was renewed while Edmunds was in the senate. Edmunds upon being asked by a reporter last night if he had any objection to the publication of the correspondence as he has not any. The gentleman to whom he had written [illegible] was at perfect liberty to make its contents public if he wishes, but considerations of courtesy would prevent him (Edmunds) from furnishing such note for publication. Phelps upon being asked for the correspondence declined to give it to the press at present.

EDMUNDS' REPLY TO PHELPS

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Following is the correspondence that recently passed between Senator Edmunds and William Walter Phelps:

UNITED STATES SENATE, WASHINGTON, April 28.

Dear Sir: I have your letter in defense of Mr. Blaine in the Sunday Tribune and also the editorial of the Tribune thereon, in which you say: "Senator Edmunds was understood to have a block of Burlington and Missouri securities," and "Senator Edmunds acquired these interests in the Burlington and Missouri road when he was in the senate, and he supported the bill to restore the land grant to that road." These statements taken in connection with the receipt of your letter, evidently mean that at the time of the legislation referred to I was somewhat interested in that road or its securities, and the editorial in the Tribune states so expressly. Both yourself and the Tribune are totally mistaken. I have hunted up what I suppose to be the joint resolution to which you refer, being senate joint resolution No. 29 of the first session of the forty first congress, of which I had no recollection whatever before, but I see on looking at the Congressional Globe of that time that I did make a simple remark on the subject of the house amendment, which remark I commend to your careful consideration.

A DIRECT DENIAL

I had not at that time and never had before any ownership or interest in the money bonds [illegible] of that road or any [illegible] of the state of Vermont never expected to have and had no more connection with the passage of the joint resolution than you had, and knew no more than you, which I assume was nothing at all, excepting what may be inferred from my remarks on the house amendment. More than three months afterwards and on the 12th of July, 1870, I [illegible] looking at my old books I sent [illegible] shares of the stock and $1,000 in bonds of the Burlington and Missouri river railroad company. [illegible] asked what I assume it was in some way affected by the legislation referred to, and paid in cash the same price that all other subscribers paid, and held it [illegible] several years when I sold it at the [illegible] market at the market price at [illegible] although [illegible] the same company, which [illegible] with [illegible] by [illegible] organization of my books [illegible].

AN INVESTIGATION [illegible]

It is of some consequence [illegible] who stand [illegible] somewhat a surety in making statements about the [illegible] of other people. If you or anybody else wish to know anything concerning my business or other transactions at any time I shall be happy to put you in possession [illegible] you will be certain [illegible] I submit [illegible] precedent which every [illegible] or written to me upon [illegible] naturally [illegible] follow citizens [illegible] ruption [illegible] questions [illegible] such as usual as are untrue.

Yours respectfully, GEO. F. EDMUNDS.

To Hon. William Walter Phelps, House of Representatives.

THE STRENGTH OF THE CANDIDATES.

NEW YORK, April 30.—[Special.]—Mr. Blaine's friends here have given out the following statement of his present strength in delegates to the national convention, whose preferences are positively known:

Alabama		Nevada	6
Arkansas	10	North Carolina	4
California		New Hampshire	10
Colorado		New Jersey	11
Delaware		New York	24
Florida	4	Ohio
Illinois		Pennsylvania	48
Indiana		Texas	8
Iowa	26	Virginia
Kansas		West Virginia	10
Kentucky		Wisconsin
Maine	14	Arizona	2
Maryland		New Mexico	2
Michigan		Dakota
Minnesota	7	Washington	2
Mississippi
Missouri		Total	400
Nebraska

This is within 51 votes of the nomination and they assert that these will be secured in convention by [illegible] certainly from delegates now committed to other candidates who hold Mr. Blaine as second choice. They assert with confidence that Mr. Blaine's nomination is not only possible and probable but almost certain. From the five states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Ohio, which are considered important and pivotal, he had only 77 votes in the convention of '80 and [illegible] 1880 [illegible] he has 114.

The New York Herald publishes an estimate of Arthur's strength at 330 delegates, but gives him 41 from New York, where he has only 25, thus throwing discredit on all its figures.

THE CONGRESSMEN INTERESTED

WASHINGTON, April 30.—[Special.]—Members of congress are feeling great interest in the republican state conventions for the election of delegates to Chicago, twelve of which will be held within the next two days. It is felt that they will disclose the real strength of the various candidates. As it is now the cool-headed politicians give Blaine about 300 votes to start on. His partisans are claiming nearly 400, but such figures are based on hopes rather than facts. Arthur will probably lead Blaine at the start. The Edmunds men count up eighty votes for their favorite, and claim that they will hold the balance of power at Chicago as at Utica. The Blaine men are counting on a strong vote from Ohio, but they will be disappointed, say Ohio politicians, so long as Sherman is in the field as a candidate. The [illegible] boom does not seem to extend beyond Illinois. [illegible] Thomas Bayne, congressman from Pennsylvania, one of Blaine's most ardent supporters, stated today that he had made a careful count of delegates elected and he is certain Blaine will have 375 votes on the first ballot at Chicago, and upon the second 425 [illegible] fourth number to nominate him. [illegible] allowance for this statement must be made for Bayne is enthusiastic for the Plumed Knight.

A PLACE FOR WOMEN

[illegible]

[illegible] interested in the [illegible] government [illegible] of the whole [illegible] at the property of women [illegible] support of the state [illegible] truly life [illegible] that it is necessary to protect the [illegible] what just reason [illegible] why it would not have the [illegible] voting and [illegible] rights and interests of women [illegible] exercises all [illegible] power [illegible] brain [illegible] of earth [illegible] in selecting [illegible] of late [illegible] the ballot [illegible] who has given this subject mature thought [illegible] support [illegible] that the [illegible] believe [illegible] satisfy all reasonable [illegible].

Among the first reasons usually offered for opposing the pending amendment is that many good women do not want to vote. Well that is true of [illegible] men. While they may choose [illegible] just arbitrary laws [illegible] Patriotism or love of country [illegible] is the highest passions that [illegible] It includes all the [illegible] affections [illegible] children [illegible] and country. [illegible] a fair and ordinary [illegible] the high altitude [illegible] experience that has proved the elevating tendency of woman's presence in every situation where her voice has been heard. Another of the weighty reasons [illegible] woman should not exercise the privileges of an American citizen is: It would break up many now happy homes. [illegible] happy homes as that must stand on a very sandy foundation if a simple act of justice to woman would not be likely to make home [illegible] But if justice to [illegible] should any [illegible] produce such unfavorable [illegible] predicted [illegible] repeating [illegible] good old adage: Whatsoever ye would that others should do to you do ye even so to them. But I must not be too tedious and will only add: If the sense of truth, justice and the growth of knowledge which leads to better government and higher and nobler civilization, needs due helping hand more than another, it is the hand of a free individually self reliant womanhood. Give to her a fair opportunity for development equal with man, then will this world for the first time behold humanity fairly on the highway that leads directly toward the highest possible attainments. A nobler race of men made more worthy by reason of woman's enlarged opportunities and equal companionship in all things under the law that are essential to the welfare and happiness of the race.

"Oh, we get ample leaves and break them up. Nothing pleases a man so much as to find a bit of [illegible] of snapped off twig in his lump of maple sugar."

"And the sand?"

"Oh, well, the sand is cheap enough and helps bring in weighing out the chunks. People are not educated up to expecting sand in their maple sugar."

"Is it real maple sugar to give the flavor I suppose?"

"Bless you no: that's the old fashioned way, and it's expensive. No, we have flavoring extracts in them carboys and we can turn out any brand of maple that's called for."

The boy was ladling out the dark looking fluid into moulds that hold about a pound each. Some moulds held five pounds. Another poured the more liquid stuff into cans labeled "Pure Vermont Maple Sirup. Beware of Imitations."

"I suppose you sell most of it in the city here?"

"No, very little. The greater part goes to farmers in the country who bring it in again in farm wagons and sell it around the streets at houses where the people will only have the pure article and who won't buy from the regular stores."

The House Committee having the Matter in Charge Make a Favorable Report

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The house committee on post offices [illegible] today unanimously agreed upon the [illegible] postal telegraph bill [illegible] Rogers to report it at the first opportunity. It provides that the messages for transmission of telegrams, except [illegible] and government telegrams, shall be prepaid by telegram stamps or stamped paper, and the maximum rates for telegrams of twenty words or less exclusive of the date, address and signature, when the distance of transmission is 1,000 miles or under shall be twenty five cents, for every 500 miles or a fraction thereof in excess of 1,000 miles an additional rate of five cents may be charged, and between the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and Washington, and such other points separated by short distances as may be from time to time designated by the postmaster general the rate shall not be over fifteen cents day or night, provided that no rate shall exceed 50 cents. For telegrams to be transmitted by night, except as above stated, the charges shall be one-half of day rates. All words shall be counted except the date, address and signature and for every five additional words or less one-fifth additional rate may be charged.

The provision relative to penalties is amended to read: For failure or neglect promptly and correctly to transmit any message the contracting company or companies shall be liable to the parties injured thereby in the sum of $100, together with actual damages sustained by reason thereof to be recovered by the party injured in civil action before any court of competent jurisdiction.

A provision is inserted that no contract shall be made with any company which has not 1000 miles of telegraph line in actual operation.

The postmaster general is directed to make all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of the proposed act.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 1, 1884.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

It is seldom that the republicans of Oregon have held a convention in which so much interest was manifested as is apparent in the one which began its sessions in this city yesterday. There is an unusually full attendance from nearly all parts of the state, with a total absence of acrimonious feeling and factional rivalry. The republicans of Oregon are a united party.

The platform is, mainly, a plain declaration of principles, though, like most platforms, there are points in it which are somewhat ambiguous and evasive. In the main, however, it expresses the views and purposes of the republican party as to questions now before the public. If there are points of resemblance between this platform and that recently adopted by the democratic party in Oregon, it is to be remarked that the democratic party should be congratulated on having made a platform this year which is widely different from the platforms it was accustomed to construct in other days.

The candidate for congress selected by the convention, is a man of fair ability and good character. He has long been a resident of southern Oregon, where his life has been fully identified with the activities and interests of the country. There was a general desire to take the candidate for congress this time from some part of the state remote from Portland. Multnomah county could not dispute the fairness of this, though her delegation voted for Mr. Caples. Mr. Hermann will have the united support of the republicans of the state. Of the nomination for supreme judge it can not justly be said that the convention selected from the names presented the man whom the people generally regard as best fitted by natural ability and legal attainments for the position; and this being strictly a non-political office, and a very responsible one, reputation for ability and legal attainments ought to have had weight in deciding the nomination. Mr. Flinn is, however, a man of excellent character and undoubted integrity; but it is questionable judgment to pit him against so well known and so able a man as Governor Thayer. It is just to Mr. Hill to say that the nomination was not solicited by him, that he did no "work" whatever among the delegates, and is in no sense hurt or disappointed because he did not receive the honor. What we say about the matter is simply born of the conviction that a convention in making nominations for positions which require a certain kind of fitness and known ability ought to select for those positions men whose reputation is highest for the peculiar kind of fitness and ability required.

The convention will complete its work this morning by the appointment of delegates to the national convention. It is apparent that the sentiment of the convention is strong for Blaine, and this doubtless represents a majority of the republicans of Oregon. The opinion, however, seems to prevail that it would not be wise to instruct the delegates. A situation may arise at Chicago which cannot now be foreseen, and delegates will doubtless be chosen who may be trusted to represent intelligently the republicans of Oregon upon such situation as it may arise. Mr. Blaine has so far declared that he is not a candidate, and he may so declare to the convention when it assembles.

[illegible] FROM HISTORY.

A democratic friend thus addresses THE OREGONIAN: "Why do you not support the democratic party? Does not the declaration of principles put forth by it at The Dalles suit you as well, on the whole, as any republican declaration, and in some respects better?" We answer that parties are not to be judged by single declarations. They are to be judged by their whole course and history. Looking thus at the democratic party THE OREGONIAN does not think it as worthy of support as the republican party, though it does not pretend that the latter is perfect, nor does it hesitate to dissent from many republican dogmas, or to criticise many things done in the name and with the sanction of the republican party. What is the man? His history, his character. What is a party? The same, the very same. Judgment goes necessarily upon this basis. It has no other rational ground. It is not what a man says of himself to-day, but what he has acted during his lifetime, that we take into account when forming our estimate of him. So it is in judging a party. It is not what a party says of itself to-day, but what it has done in the course of its history, and what it must continue to do from the very nature of the materials which compose it and the purposes which actuate it that must be considered, if we would judge it without mistake.

It is impossible to forget that in the eyes of the democratic party slavery was sacred, that the war was a failure, that repudiation of the public debt was a necessity and certainty, that reconstruction was impossible, that civil rights and suffrage without distinction of color were abominations, and much more in the same line. Will the democratic party, whose representatives are to assemble in Chicago on the 8th of July, next dare repeat its platform of twenty years ago when assembled in the same place? Was the war a failure? Has the currency proved a failure? Has there been any failure to pay the honest debts of the nation? And was it wrong to extend civil and political rights? If the democratic party could sweep its past out of history and start in anew, it would be in better trim to win. How would it do to declare, "Whereas, the democratic party for a quarter of a century has been a failure, but as all the principles it has contended for during that period have been mistakes, but are now happily obsolete, therefore resolved that the party is now entirely worthy of the favor and confidence of the country?"

There is a certain class of political opinion which seems to think that it is cheaper to kill the Indians than to educate them. This view seems to prevail in congress, to judge from the action of the house upon the appropriation for that purpose. A letter from the secretary of the interior to the Indian rights association of Philadelphia, states that the amount appropriated is fully $200,000 short of what is needed to carry on the work of education which has been attended with such excellent results during the past few years. That sum would doubtless buy enough powder and shot to kill off all the Indians in the country; but on the whole the nation will be likely to consider it better economy to spend it in educating them. If the educational policy can not be fully carried out, the policy of butchery may be a better way of settling the question than to deal in half-measures. Yet, while congress is flinging money away by tens of millions without much question as to the utilities, it surely ought not to play the niggard with the education of the Indians.

Statistics recently published show that we spend in this country some $900,000,000 annually for strong drink, and that in England the annual expenses for the same article is less than $700,000,000. A significant feature of the comparative statement appears in the fact that while our drink bill is rapidly increasing that of England appears to be diminishing. It is certain that temperance reform has been making considerable progress in England during some years past. Great efforts are being made to check the consumption of alcoholic liquors, and with such success that a marked reduction of the revenue from liquors appears in the exchequer statement.

The high-license ordinance of the city of Minneapolis requires a fee of $500 for the sale of liquors and a bond equal to the amount of the fee, to be signed by two sureties doing business within 500 feet of the place where the liquors are to be sold. This is an admirable regulation to hold the liquor traffic down.

A WRONG THING.

The republican state convention this year has been apparently about as free from jobs and jobbery as the best of its predecessors. But there was one thing done which was certainly a wrong to a part of the delegates, and which looked quite like a trick of the "skilled laborers" who have been accustomed to manipulate Oregon politics.

At the time of the election two years ago the territory now comprising the counties of Wasco and Crook was all embraced in Wasco county. When the state central committee met in February last to call the convention, the vote of Mr. George at the last election was adopted as a basis of apportionment, giving to each county one delegate for every 125 votes and one delegate at large; and without taking the pains to ascertain by precinct returns what part of the vote of the old county of Wasco should be credited to the present county of Wasco, and what part to the new county of Crook, which had been carved out of Wasco, the committee alloted eight delegates to Wasco and five to Crook. By actual vote of the precincts Wasco would have been entitled, upon the basis adopted, to ten delegates and Crook to three; and it was understood in Wasco, before the county conventions, that the two counties would send delegates accordingly. But it was not so understood in Crook county. The result was that Wasco sent up ten delegates and Crook five. When the state convention met, the usual committee on credentials was appointed with John Kelly of Lane county as chairman. That committee reported that the delegation from Wasco county should be reduced to eight, which under the circumstances was not surprising, though it is hardly just. But the committee took upon itself also to state what two delegates from Wasco should be excluded, and selected two who were known not to be in sympathy with what is commonly called "ring politics." When the report was read Hon. Robert Mays, of the Wasco delegation, who is also known as an anti-ring man, moved that the delegation from Wasco be allowed to select from among themselves the two who should retire; but, of course, in the hurry of business it is always difficult to make successful opposition to the report of a committee on such matters, and the motion of Mr. Mays, so manifestly just and proper, was lost. So the two anti-ring men were cast out. We do not know that this action affected the nominations, but, considering its extraordinary character and the parties immediately concerned, it had a very suspicious look.

"GOUGING" THE FARMER.

Wheat growers of Dakota are protesting vigorously against railway discrimination, by which they are made to suffer loss on every bushel of grain shipped by them. Some time ago a few enterprising farmers of that territory discovered that they could get eight or ten cents a bushel more for their wheat by shipping it to Minneapolis instead of selling it at the local elevator. The discovery was soon noised about, and the shipments to Minneapolis increased rapidly. This was not long permitted, as the agents of the railway suddenly ran short of cars, and transportation could not be had for love or money. This is a very old trick, and the farmers were perfectly justified in the conclusion that the local elevator companies and the transportation agents were in a conspiracy to gouge them by forcing them to sell their grain for what the agents of the speculators chose to pay them, or keep it on hand in their barns. So long as this system of gouging can be successfully practiced farmers will not realize the profits they ought to have and are justly entitled to. When those who never saw a wheat field can combine together and reap a larger profit on the yield than falls to the tillers and owners of the soil, both the producer and the consumer will continue to be fleeced. Just how to remedy this evil is a problem not so easily solved, but it is certain that such a system will not be tolerated much longer. The national government ought to make an honest effort to afford relief, but seems disposed to procrastinate until forced to act under the spur of a popular outbreak.

It appears probable that the strength of Blaine and Arthur in the national convention will be about equal. The balance of power will be held by other candidates. These, so far, are Edmunds, Logan, Harrison, Sherman and Hawley, with a possibility of a small scattering vote for others. New England does not take kindly to Blaine. Outside of Maine his strength in that section will be small. Arthur's vote will be largely from the southern states, though Blaine's roster, as published in a special dispatch to-day, includes a good many votes from that section for the man of Maine. It is almost certain now that no candidate will have a majority at the opening of the convention. Behind them all, therefore, stalks the shadow of the coming man. The country will wait to see whose form will appear "when the clouds roll by." Not a few see, or think they see, in the dim figure in the misty distance the form and liniaments of General Grant. After the candidates so far named have tried their strength, the convention may nominate Grant by acclamation. He would carry the country with a rush.

The New York independent republican vote is chiefly concentrated in New York city, Brooklyn and Buffalo—Brooklyn standing first. It is plain that the state will be lost to the republicans without the aid of the men who defeated Folger, because he was forced upon them as a machine candidate. It is, therefore, worthy of note that the New York Times, the Brooklyn Union and the Buffalo Express, speaking for these independent republicans, respectively declare that Mr. Blaine cannot carry New York. The Union thus summarizes their opinions: "The Union has repeatedly and emphatically declared its firm conviction that the nomination of Blaine by the republican party would inevitably result in his defeat by a decisive majority. The New York Times insists that Blaine 'cannot come within 50,000 votes of securing the electoral vote of the state.' The Buffalo Express copies a contemporary's opinion that Blaine cannot carry New York, and says 'We believe it is the truth.'" It would be idle to overlook, and foolish to underrate such testimony as this.

Mr. Curtis exposes in Harper's Weekly the silliness of those republican organs which are complaining because independent republican journals are frankly declaring that certain candidates could not carry New York, and so could not be elected. The bringing of such complaint shows the survival of the old idea of journalism, which made it the business of the party organ to "declare that all its own party men and measures were perfect, and all those of the other side contemptible." But the number of republican papers which have plainly declared the impossibility of electing either Arthur or Blaine shows what progress the party press is making in independence.

The Ohio legislature adjourned leaving the Scott liquor law on the books as it was, and the saloon interests talk rather sharply to the democracy about "pledges." The last hours of the session made a very offensive scandal from the killing of a bill which provided for the building of an oil-pipe from Pennsylvania to Cleveland, to be a common carrier. The Standard Oil Company opposed it, and there are charges of gross corruption in the matter.

Judge Noah Davis, of New York, favors a divorce amendment to the constitution. "The subject of marriage," he says, "is so interwoven with the public interest that the state must, as a matter of self-protection, take it into its charge by provisions of law enacted for its control and protection." He pronounces "the family and marriage, its creator and preserver, of all things foremost in importance to the peace, happiness and progress of the race," and for their protection he urges the insertion of two words in the fourth subdivision of section eight of the constitution, so that it shall read, "Congress shall have power to establish a uniform rule of naturalization and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies and divorce throughout the United States." Judge Davis furthermore thinks that the state should be a party in every divorce suit and that an interval of six months should elapse between the beginning of the proceedings and the divorce.

The objection to Mr. Edmunds, stated by "boomers" of other candidates is that he is "an iceberg." One says that, "should he be elected, every caller at the White house would have to take along a hot stove and wear the thickest overcoat to keep from being frozen out, though the call should last but the fraction of a minute." Couldn't the country stand it if the office-seeker should encounter this sort of treatment for a while?

Blaine, unquestionably, is strong in Oregon and California; but the question to be decided is whether he is not weak in the essential states.

Caples couldn't beat geography. It is about as hard to beat geography as geometry or any other of the exact sciences.

Henry Dewey's Presentiment.

Syracuse Journal.

The account in Monday's Journal of the terrible death of Henry Dewey, a farmer of Fort Ann, Washington county, N. Y., was seen by Mr. Cyrus D. Avery, who gives us some singular details of a remarkable presentiment that Mr. Dewey had of his impending sudden death. Mr Dewey came here on Friday last, and on Saturday morning he made purchases of a carload of fertilizer spreaders. In conversation with Mr. Avery, with whom he conducted his business, he stated that he labored under a very strong depression caused by an apprehension of sudden death; that he left home against the protest of his wife, who sympathized with his fears that he could not shake off the feeling of depression that possessed him, and in his purchase of the machines Mr. Dewey expressly stipulated that, in case of harm befalling him, his family should not be held for the purchase. The machines were to have been shipped to Mr. Dewey on Monday, but before this could be done a telegram was received announcing his death. It appears that the railroad tracks run through the Dewey farm, and that he attempted to get off from the sleeping car near his own home while the train was in motion. He was run down by a freight train and probably instantly killed.

Wanted It Killed.

Merchant Traveler.

A merchant traveler at dinner requested the waiter to bring him a piece of rare beef, and when it came it was rare, indeed. "Waiter!" he remarked warningly, as he looked at the undone dish. "Yes, sah," responded the darkey. "Take this beef out, please, and kill it." The waiter crawled into a napkin ring and disappeared.

CITY.

"[illegible] STORM."—There is on exhibition [illegible] Palace, from Mr. J. E. Stuart's studio, [illegible] production, entitled "The Approaching Storm." The study is taken from a point [illegible], and it only needed Mr. [illegible] artists, and it only needed [illegible] to note it and transfer it to his canvas. [illegible] is about three miles above the [illegible], looking down stream, and immediately [illegible] of the "Three Brothers." The [illegible] the right bank of the Columbia [illegible] an Indian tent containing a [illegible] the purple smoke from which is curling [illegible] the quiet air, not yet having felt the [illegible] of the storm. The river in its placid [illegible] tone of the sky, and the outline of [illegible] which is making its way up the [illegible] a fine effect. [illegible] artist has caught a moment [illegible] light that pours through a moment [illegible] the clouds, and which falls upon [illegible] "Brothers," bringing out the marked [illegible] curious rock formation [illegible] also freshens the early green [illegible] good trees in the middle distance [illegible] of the "brothers" and bordering [illegible] striking contrast between [illegible] the dark, deep and frowning [illegible] the shadow of the storm cloud [illegible] shoots suddenly from the [illegible], attention is directed to the [illegible] "standing in its solemnity and [illegible] of the storm. A harmonious [illegible] of the work, and its treatment is [illegible] thoroughly artistic. Above all [illegible] of the artist in selecting this [illegible] his taste.

[illegible] OF MARRIAGE.—The two Chinese [illegible] referred to in this column [illegible] at the city jail are now [illegible]. They both committed suicide [illegible] yesterday afternoon. Two [illegible] Chinamen were brought around [illegible] at 5 P. M. The party [illegible] had the necessary documents [illegible] and so the two females were [illegible]. They greeted the [illegible] were soon to be their lords [illegible] with demonstrative [illegible], one of them sitting down in [illegible] giving him a genuine hug a [illegible]. The audience was select and comprised [illegible] prominent citizens of Yamhill [illegible] and a reporter. The couples [illegible] and were perhaps indissolubly [illegible] who appeared to have a proper [illegible] solemnity of the occasion. Few [illegible] words he said, and he made no [illegible], but he said to himself, as he [illegible], "they'll be sadder and wiser bo[illegible]"

[illegible] ERROR.—Complaint was made [illegible] yesterday by E. L. Thorpe [illegible] Portland Vindicator, that he had [illegible] by Charles Yanberg, captain [illegible] steamer Sellwood, and in [illegible] inflicted two very black eyes, [illegible] had been concealed by a pair [illegible] Thorpe claims that having [illegible] some article in [illegible] set upon and beaten without [illegible] given no provocation and [illegible] Other persons on the boat [illegible] from Thorpe. The assault [illegible] the steamer while coming to this [illegible] boat arrived here Thorpe sought [illegible] Having sworn to the complaint, [illegible] and Yanberg arrested. He gave [illegible] for trial this morning at 10 [illegible] Yanberg cannot take much credit [illegible] such a slim follow as [illegible]

[illegible].—Suit has been commenced [illegible] court by George C. Hickox of [illegible] O. Elliott, Ben Holladay, Joseph [illegible] F. Ellinger to recover a certain [illegible] supreme court of this state [illegible] Holladay was to pay Elliott. It will be [illegible] S. G. Elliott was connected with [illegible] of the earliest railroad enterprises [illegible], and that Holladay brought a suit [illegible] here and succeeded in having the [illegible] Elliott carried the case to [illegible], which ordered that Holladay pay [illegible]. Hickox alleges that [illegible] certain moneys to carry on the suit [illegible], which are still owing to him, and [illegible] to Elliott by the supreme [illegible] been paid by Holladay. Hickox [illegible] get hold of this money due Elliott [illegible] doubtless be much pleased if he [illegible]

[illegible] DISCOVERY OF MUMMIES.—Nothing has [illegible] general satisfaction in this section since [illegible] of the mortgage tax law, as the [illegible] discovery of a [illegible] some place with a [illegible] perplexing name. This discovery [illegible] our suffering people. The scarcity [illegible] which has heretofore prevailed here has [illegible] hardship. Only the most wealthy of [illegible] to have one. Now every [illegible] their own mummy; the wealthy [illegible] bric-a-brac can have a collection [illegible] the poorest can have a leg or [illegible] for the mantle piece. Nothing [illegible] desired than that our homes should [illegible] and attractive, and plenty of mummy [illegible] prices will contribute greatly to this [illegible]

[illegible].—A circular has been received [illegible] from Harry J. Lask, stating that [illegible] San Francisco will lay the corner [illegible] at the corner of Seventh and [illegible] that city on May 14. The ceremony [illegible] under the auspices of the [illegible] state, which meets in annual [illegible] at that time. Reduced rates have been [illegible] and steamship companies, a [illegible] to have a general holiday [illegible], and no effort will be spared to [illegible] a grand and imposing pageant.

[illegible].—Tickets admitting spectators [illegible] the pavilion will be on sale at [illegible] this morning and at the [illegible]. The tickets will admit to the [illegible] by the Third street entrance only. [illegible] will be admitted by the Second [illegible]

[illegible].—The Ladies' Auxiliary committee [illegible] Young Men's Christian Association will [illegible] meeting in the parlor of the association [illegible] afternoon at 3 o'clock. All ladies interested [illegible] invited to be present.

NEW EXPLOSIVE.—The crowd of old salts who make a resort of Brown & McCabe's office, on North Front street, has grown very small of late, most of them having secured cargoes and sailed for England. The few who are left were busy yesterday in trying to analyze some mysterious chemical which a rubber stamp man had sold to Buddy. It was in slim sticks of a whitish color enclosed in a glass vial. A drop of water let fall on a piece of this stuff caused it to grow hot, and in a moment to burst into flame. Captain Brown placed a small piece on the tobacco in his pipe, spat on it, and in a moment it burst into a flame and set the tobacco on fire. "Well, I'm blowed," said one old sea captain, "if I'd like to carry a cargo of that stuff." "It must be paralyzed nitro-glycerine," said another. Just then a skipper came in. Two parties at once essayed the experiment of lighting a pipe for his edification. One succeeded, the other shot wide and kindled no fire. "Ah," said the suspicious captain, "it makes a difference who spits on it." "Well," said another, "if you would only breathe on the tobacco it would set it on fire." No one knew the name of the stuff, and an apothecary who saw it said it was a notch ahead of him. It is certainly very dangerous stuff and should be handled with great caution.

STOLEN PROPERTY RECOVERED.—Last evening, just before dark, three men were seen coming out from underneath the wharf, at the foot of Jefferson street, carrying a gunny sack filled with something that seemed quite heavy. A policeman noticed the trio, and, going up to them, demanded to know what they were carrying. They replied that they did not know. They had found the sack with its contents under the wharf and had not yet opened it. This was not considered satisfactory, and the men, still carrying the heavy sack, were marched to the police station. Here the sack was opened and found to be half filled with revolvers and pocket knives, all jumbled together in a heap. It was evidently stolen property, but the men in whose possession it was found were able to prove their innocence. They were honest, hard-working men, who had business at the wharf, and stumbled upon the sack of stolen cutlery and firearms by accident. Later developments proved that the property was that taken a week ago by burglars from the store of F. R. Chown. That gentleman being sent for identified all the articles by the cost marks upon them, and said he believed that everything that had been taken was found in the sack.

NO SHOW FOR CEMENT MANUFACTURE.—Since the publication of an article in these columns a few days since in regard to a deposit of cement rock at Tillamook several parties have called at this office to make inquiries in regard to prospects of the manufacture of cement being carried on in this state with profit. From the best information THE OREGONIAN is able to obtain in regard to the matter it appears that there is but small show for such an enterprise proving profitable here. Cement is manufactured in England much more cheaply than it can be here and the cost of transporting it here is very small comparatively. A gentleman who had an interest in a cement mine in southern Oregon states that the freight on cement from England around Cape Horn to this place was less than it would be from Roseburg here. Freight is brought here very cheaply but it is expensive to ship anything away, so any foreign market is closed to us. The day will come when our fine iron, cement and other ores, can be worked with profit, but just when it will come is one of those things which no fellow can find out.

ARRESTS FOR APRIL.—The police of this city made arrests during the month of April, as follows: Drunk and disorderly 118; trespass 18, assault with dangerous weapon 9, carrying concealed weapon 5, disorderly conduct 21, roaming streets after midnight 4, abusive language 9, driving fast over bridge 8, saturating swill at improper hours 0, soliciting for hotel in loud voice 2, larceny 18, insane 3, resisting an officer 1, attempting to bribe an officer 1, maintaining a nuisance 1, storing articles on porch 3, deserter United States army 8, robbery 2, selling liquor without license 1, refusing to move on 2, depositing filth on street 2, prisoners en route 3, peddling without license 1, held as witness 1, soliciting for hotel without license 1, held as witness 1, burglary 1, residing in bawdy house 2. Total 293.

CHANGE OF TELEGRAPH OFFICIALS.—Mr. G. Q. Stewart, who, since the 1st of last September, has been manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company's office in this city, has accepted a position in the same company in California. He will leave Portland in a few days. Mr. Stewart has proved a very efficient and faithful officer of the telegraph company. By his uniform courtesy he has made many friends here, whose best wishes will accompany him to his new field of labor. Mr. Jeff. Hayes will succeed Mr. Stewart here.

DID NOT KNOW IT WAS WRONG.—A. Kenison of Corvallis was examined before a United States commissioner yesterday on a charge of selling liquor to R. Hargrave, a half-breed Indian. Mr. Kenison is an old citizen of Corvallis and an orderly and law-abiding man. He did not know that it was violating the law to let Hargrave have liquors. He was held to answer.

BRIEF MENTION.

Knights Templar ball to-night.

The Turners meet at the German aid society' hall to-night.

The attendance at the Pavilion skating rink Saturday night promises to be large, as all the young people are anxious for one more skate this season.

For the convenience of parties wishing to visit the Mechanics' pavilion this evening, the Third street railway company will put on an extra number of cars and will keep them running till a late hour.

The finishing touches are being put on the front of the Cook block, on Front street, at the foot of A. There is some beautiful galvanized iron work on the building, which is the handsomest in that vicinity.

J. W. Grant, late of Heppner and at one time a teacher in the grammar school here, was buried at Lone Fir cemetery yesterday. He had no relatives here, and his funeral was conducted by the Masons, of which order he was a member.

The internal revenue fiscal year commences to-day, and the force in Collector Cartwright's office was kept very busy yesterday in issuing licenses to dealers in liquors, tobacco and cigars, brewers, etc. Over $5,000 was received for the printed documents without which no man dares to deal in the above mentioned articles.

AMUSEMENTS.

The third night saw no diminution in the attendance upon "Our Strategists." Its success is well merited.

Next Monday Miss Louise Pomeroy and the Baldwin Theater Company in "Claire and the Forgemaster," a reigning success in New York.

PERSONAL.

H. J. McCoy, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of San Francisco, is expected to arrive on the morning boat from Kalama to-day, on a brief visit to friends in Portland.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Orders Issued to all Members of the Grand Army in Washington Territory for its Celebration.

HEADQUARTERS DEPT. OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY,
GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC,
VANCOUVER, April 28, 1884.

The 30th day of May by custom and order has been set apart by the Grand Army of the Republic for exercises in memory of the 300,000 patriotic men who laid down their lives for the preservation of the American Union. These exercises consist of parades, religious services in cemeteries where our dead are sleeping, strewing their graves with flowers, speeches and songs commemorative of their courage and patriotism, and in honor of the cause for which they fought and fell. Memorial Day has been sanctified in the hearts of the American people by a thousand tender associations. It has the authority of law and the sanction of religion for its observance. Unless we are to except the men who fought for our national independence, no men in the annals of the human race have had cast upon them graver responsibilities than had the patriotic men who from April 12, 1861, to April 9, 1865, upheld, maintained and preserved the honor and integrity of American free republican government. So long as mankind honor and revere free institutions so long the memory of these our fallen comrades will be held in grateful remembrance.

It is earnestly recommended that posts in this department extend invitations to schools in their vicinity to participate in the ceremonies of the day. To teach the young the value of the sacrifice that was made to insure to them the blessings of free government is a duty we owe to the living and the dead.

On the Sunday preceding Memorial Day it has been customary for the members of the Grand Army to attend together a place of worship where religious services appropriate to the occasion will be conducted. The custom is beautiful and its continued observance is recommended.

The Great Edinburg Riot.

New York Corr. Troy Times.

The recent Cincinnati mob, with its fearful consequences, will have bold bloody distinction. As an expression, however, of public dissatisfaction with the punishment of a murderer, it is not without a parallel in the old world. How readily, indeed, it recalls the description which Scott gives (in the "Heart of Midlothian") of the awful riot which is still remembered in Edinburg, though it occurred more than a century and a half ago. This is the first instance on record of breaking into jail for the purpose of punishing a prisoner, and hence is worthy of reference. The circumstances are as follows: An execution had just taken place, but the sympathy of the masses were with the culprit, hence the military was required and the city guard was in attendance under command of Captain Porteous. The latter was much enraged by the violence of some of the populace, and at last ordered his men to fire, which was done, with fatal effect. This led a widespread and intense excitement, and Porteous was arrested, tried and convicted of murder. He was sentenced to death, but the hand of the executioner was stayed by a respite granted by royal authority. This interference exasperated the public to such a degree that the town bell was rung at midnight, and the vast gathering, having found a leader, became a lawless mob. They stormed the tolbooth, or prison, dragged forth the unfortunate captain and hanged him in the public square, after which they immediately dispersed. Efforts were made to detect the leaders, but without success, and in fact it was found impossible to convict any one. A number fled, however, to escape what they feared might be the consequences, and Scott says that in after years, whenever any man returned after a long absence, he would be generally supposed to have been one of the Porteous mob. Scott makes the scene an impressive feature in the "Heart of Midlothian," and perhaps some future novelist may make the same use of the recent terrible riot in Cincinnati.

Java's Volcanoes.

Chicago Herald.

There are thirty-eight large volcanoes in Java, some of which are more than 10,000 feet high. It is a peculiarity of the volcanoes of that region that they seldom eject lava, but enormous masses of mud, "rivers of mud," as they have been called, flow from them.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Hon. Binger Hermann of Douglas County Nominated for Congress.

JUDGE J. FLINN OF LINN FOR SUPREME JUDGE.

Presidential Electors:—D. P. Thompson, Warren Truitt and J. C. Leasure—Adjournment till 10 O'Clock this Morning.

Yesterday's convention throughout was harmonious. The customary monotony of temporary organization was broken into by a dispute as to whether ten delegates should be admitted from Wasco, or only eight allowed. The convention sustained the committee on credentials, and thenceforth business went along without interruption. Chief interest, of course, centered around the nomination for congressman. Balloting began at 4:15, and the first went very slow as the name of each delegate was called. After the first ballot delegations voted by counties, individual members handing their ballots to their respective chairmen. On the second ballot Rowland was withdrawn. There was very little excitement up to the fourth ballot. At the conclusion of the third, a motion to adjourn was lost by an overwhelming vote, and it became evident that Hermann's friends intended not to leave the field until he was nominated. Before the sixth ballot Fulton was withdrawn. Hermann on the fifth ballot lacked only six votes of election, and it was generally conceded that no more than two ballots more would be required. Nearly every delegate and every man in the lobby kept a tally-sheet, and when, towards the end of the sixth ballot, Hermann had scored the 104th vote there was loud applause.

Uncle Jesse Applegate's nomination of ex-Governor Thayer for the supreme bench created some merriment, though many were not inclined to ridicule the idea that the party in minority should have a representative in the highest court of the state.

There will be a warm contest to-day over the selection of delegates to the republican national convention, for which honor twenty or more persons are anxious.

The Proceedings.

The state republican convention met in Masonic hall at 11 A. M., and was called to order by Hon. Sol. Hirsch, chairman of the state central committee, who predicted that the candidates nominated by the convention would be elected in June.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION.

Simon of Multnomah nominated Hon. Henry Failing for temporary chairman, and that gentleman was elected by a unanimous vote. The announcement of the vote was received with hearty applause, which was renewed as Mr. Failing was introduced by Mr. Hirsch.

Mr. Failing said: "I feel highly honored in having been called with such unanimity to act as your temporary presiding officer, and for this evidence of your confidence I tender you my sincere and heartfelt thanks. Feeling very unwell and hardly able, physically, to preside here, I shall nevertheless fulfill the duties you have assigned me as best I can, but lacking in practice as a presiding officer of so large a deliberative body, I ask your kind consideration and forbearance. I hope and believe that your doings, characterized by wisdom and harmony, will be ratified by a very large majority of the electors of this state at the June election. The candidate which this convention will nominate for congress—and who I assume will be triumphantly elected—will be the first member elect to the next congress. Our triumph in June by an increased majority will be accepted by our political brethren in other states as a sure harbinger of a great national victory in November next."

W. T. Wright of Union county was elected secretary.

The following committee on credentials was appointed: John Kelly of Lane, Max Muller of Jackson, E. J. Summerville of Umatilla, J. C. Fullerton of Douglas and J. T. Apperson of Clackamas.

On permanent organization the following were appointed: D. S. K. Buick of Douglas, T. R. Cornelius of Washington, F. A. Moore of Columbia, R. Hurley of Yamhill and A. Cleaver of Baker.

On order of business the following were appointed: W. P. Keady of Benton, R. N. Stuart [illegible] of Multnomah, W. R. Dufur of Wasco, Warren Truitt of Polk and F. C. Reed of Clatsop.

On platform, the following were chosen by the respective delegations: Baker, L. O. Stearns; Benton, M. S. Woodcock; Clackamas, E. L. Eastham; Clatsop, J. F. Halloran; Columbia, D. C. Tedford; Coos, A. M. Crawford; Crook, C. M. Cartwright; Curry, Robert Walker; Douglas, Jesse Applegate; Grant, M. L. Olmstead; Jackson, J. P. Hammond; Josephine, F. M. Nickerson; Klamath, Robert A. Emmett; Lake, W. H. Odell; Lane, S. M. Yoran; Linn, H. H. Hewitt; Marion, George H. Turner; Multnomah, Sol. Hirsch; Polk, A. J. Richardson; Tillamook, William F. Stillwell; Umatilla, J. A. Marston; Union, M. Baker; Wasco, Geo. Watkins; Washington, T. D. Humphrey; Yamhill, W. S. Powell.

The convention then took a recess until 1 P. M.

Afternoon Session.

The convention reassembled and was called to order at 1:30 P. M. As the committee on credentials was not ready to report, and the convention therefore could not proceed with business, calls were made for Hermann, Caples, McBride, Fulton, and other candidates for congress, but none of them came forward. Captain N. B. Humphrey soon after came in, and he was called on from all parts of the house. In his good natured, humorous way, Humphrey arose and said: "I am not a candidate for congress, and I don't want to make a speech. If I got up and made you a speech you would nominate me for congress in spite of all that I could do [laughter], and I don't want to run. [Renewed laughter.] I will not make a speech now, but I promise you that after this convention I will speak in behalf of the man who shall be nominated for congress, and do all in my power to help elect him. [Applause.] And I don't care who the nominee shall be. He shall have my support, and that is the way every member of this convention should feel. There are five or six candidates for congress, and some one is going to be disappointed. That is the way in all conventions. I never attended a convention in my life where everything suited me exactly, but I will regard the man who gets this nomination as being the best man, and he'll have to be very inferior not to be able to defeat the democratic nominee."

Keady of Benton offered the following resolution, which was read by the secretary:

WHEREAS, This convention recognizes the vital interest to the Willamette valley of maintaining the port of Yaquina as a port of entry; therefore,

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress are hereby requested most earnestly to oppose all movements for consolidating Yaquina with any other port in Oregon.

The chair expressed the opinion that the resolution, under the rule adopted by the morning session, ought to go to the committee on resolutions without debate.

Keady insisted that it did not come under the rule, as it did not relate to the policy or principles of the republican party.

The chair decided the point well taken and submitted to Keady whether it was proper to be acted on before permanent organization.

Keady said he would call it up after the convention was organized permanently.

It being reported that the committee on credentials would not be ready to report for an hour, the convention took a recess till 3 o'clock.

THE REPRESENTATION.

The committee on credentials made the following report:

Yamhill—W. S. Powell, E. H. Woodworth, W. J. Simmons, R. Hurley, D. B. Henderson, T. N. Faulconer, R. J. Hartman, R. R. Laughlin and Wm. Cooper.

Your committee further find that Wasco county elected ten delegates to this convention, whereas under the call and apportionment of the state central committee, said county is entitled to only eight votes. From the evidence before the committee we find that the eight delegates elected on the first ballot in the county convention of said county are entitled to represent said county, and that the following named persons elected as delegates are not entitled to seats in the convention: A. J. Johnson, S. J. La France. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN KELLY,
J. T. APPERSON,
E. J. SOMMERVILLE,
MAX MULLER,
J. C. FULLERTON,
Committee.

Richardson, of Wasco, moved as an amendment that the names of Johnson and La France be added to the list of delegates from Wasco. He supported the motion by a statement that the state committee had allowed to Wasco seven delegates and to Crook four, giving each one delegate at large. On the basis of representation, viz: One delegate to every 125 votes cast for M. C. George for congress in 1882, Wasco was entitled to ten and Crook to three votes. He regarded the apportionment made by the state committee as a mistake, and asked, in justice to Wasco county, that it be entitled to a representation according to its republican vote.

Simon, of Multnomah, explained that he was a member of the sub committee of the state central committee to whom the apportionment was referred. Wasco county was divided by the last legislature and the committee could not determine the respective populations of Crook and Wasco. The member from Wasco was a member of the sub-committee and he agreed on eleven delegates for the two counties, four for Crook and seven for Wasco. The sub-committee left the matter entirely with the members from Crook and Wasco, who agreed as above stated. He made this explanation only in justice to the state committee.

Richardson said he intended to cast no reflections on the state committee. Crook county was represented in the committee by a proxy who did not know the vote. In 1882 the precincts now composing Wasco cast 1128 votes for George, and the precincts composing Crook 215 votes. He submitted to the convention the justice of 215 votes commanding five delegates while 1128 votes commanded only eight.

Richardson's amendment was lost by a large majority.

Mays of Wasco asked that the Wasco delegation be allowed to "slough off" two delegates.

This was denied, and the report as read was adopted.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The committee on permanent organization reported in favor of Henry Failing, president, W. T. Wright, secretary, and W. H. Atkinson as assistant secretary, as permanent officers. Report adopted.

The chair thanked the convention for the renewed honor and declared the convention permanently organized.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

The committee on order of business reported, recommending the following:

First—Adoption of platform.
Second—Nomination of a candidate for congress.
Third—Nomination of three presidential electors.
Fourth—Nomination of a candidate for supreme judge.
Fifth—Selection of six delegates to the national republican convention (one delegate from each judicial district to be selected by delegates from the respective districts.)
Sixth—Confirmation of district nominations.
Seventh—Selection of a state central committee, to consist of one from each county to be selected by the county. The committee so selected to elect its own chairman.

Humphrey, of Grant, said: "There is a portion of the report that I don't fully endorse, for this reason. The committee recommended that each judicial district select a delegate to the national convention. I think that every republican in the state of Oregon is interested in every delegate that goes to the national convention. I think that every republican has a right to be represented in this convention and vote for that delegate, whoever he may be. I think that it is proper and right for this convention to select these men and every man in this convention as the representative of the people of every part of Oregon, to vote for that man that represents them to the national convention. [Great applause.] I don't believe that it is right for any sectional feeling of that kind to prevail in the state of Oregon, and I know that every man here is interested just as much as any other man, and I believe this, that instead of each judicial district selecting a man, this convention ought to select six good men, and I am not afraid of the result. And I don't care two cents where they come from, just so they are first-class republicans elected by the republican party of the state of Oregon. [Applause.] I move that all of the fifth paragraph after the word 'convention,' be stricken out." [The words stricken out are enclosed in brackets above.—Reporter.]

Burnett of Marion said: I move the adoption of the report. I think that the nearer these representatives represent their people the closer we come to the people with those representatives the better. Four years ago I recollect that the convention nominated six delegates or rather elected six delegates to the national convention. At that time it was tacitly understood that these delegates should come one from every one of the five judicial districts in the state, as it then stood, and we elected one delegate at large. That was the tacit understanding which prevailed at that time. That question came up before the national republican convention and the national republican committee, and the better sentiment of the party favored district representation. That principle was championed by James A. Garfield, and I think he is a safe guide for this convention to follow [applause] and to select our delegates from the districts that they represent the whole state. We don't want this thing represented from one corner or from one particular part of the state, but that every man in the state shall have his voice and vote for his man right at home, and thus bring the matter home to the people. Let us bring the matter as closely as practicable to them, that the delegates thus elected may voice the real sentiment of the people. I say that the best plan—the best thing to do—is to elect one man from every district.

McBride of Columbia said: It is for this convention to elect these delegates. This state of Oregon constitutes one congressional district, and I therefore believe in district representation—representation by congressional districts. As all the people of the state of Oregon have a vote for the president who is nominated at the convention, I believe that all the people of the state of Oregon should have a voice in the election of each and every man that is sent from there to represent the people of the state. They are not sent there to represent the people of the fourth judicial district, or the fifth or sixth or the first, but sent there to represent the whole of the people. Where, therefore, is the consistency in allowing a small fraction of the people to choose a delegate who shall represent and be sent there to represent the voice of the people of the state in their nominations. Take it in this state, and see the inequality of this proposed judicial district representation. The Fifth judicial district, where I live, is the largest district in the state; therefore, I have no fears, personally, of losing by that. But the Fifth judicial district, with its 60,000 people, has no more representation, though it will cast twice as many votes for president as some smaller judicial district.

As this is not a sectional matter, as these judicial districts do not elect the presidential electors, but the whole state can vote for each and every one of them, I say that the whole state being interested, the fair way and only real way of settling this is for the whole state to vote in convention assembled for each and every delegate, because it is by the election of these delegates that the people of the state as a whole, and not by judicial districts, are to be bound in the election in November.

Humphrey's amendment was adopted and the words were stricken out.

Keady called up his resolution relative to Yaquina bay, which was adopted without dissent.

COMPLIMENT TO JESSE APPLEGATE.

Johnson of Clackamas offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this convention greets with great satisfaction the presence, on the floor as a delegate, of the Hon. Jesse Applegate—[Great applause]—the well known pioneer citizen and republican; and we trust he may be long spared to afford us the benefit of his wise counsel and example.

It was unanimously adopted, amid considerable enthusiasm.

Shelly of Lane moved that all votes for candidates be by ballot, and that a majority of all votes cast be required to nominate; carried.

A committee of two were appointed to learn how soon the committee on resolutions would be ready to report. Their answer was, "twenty minutes." The convention thereupon took a recess for that time.

THE PLATFORM.

Upon reassembling the committee on resolutions offered the following, which were adopted as a whole by a unanimous vote:

WHEREAS, The republican party has for a quarter of a century had the political thought of the nation, and

WHEREAS, This great party has succeeded by being aggressive and fearless in support of right, we, the republicans of Oregon in convention assembled, mindful of the glories which cluster around its past history, renew our pledges of fidelity to the doctrines which have repeatedly received the indorsement of the people, and do make and affirm the following declaration of our political principles:

1. That we favor honest, efficient and economic administration of every department of government.
2. That we favor the equal protection of the rights of labor and capital.
3. That we regard the free school system of our state as the special care and pride of the republican party.
4. To the important and rapidly increasing manufacturing and wool growing interests of Oregon we favor the protecting care of the general government equal in extent to the importance of those industries.
5. That we reaffirm the past policy of the republican party to foster and encourage railroad building in all parts of our state; and at the same time we hold all corporations to be strictly responsible for their liabilities under the law, and insist on the right and duty of the legislature, both state and national, to enact all reasonable limitations upon corporate powers.
6. That by the generous policy of the republican party in congress liberal appropriations have been made to various portions of our state, and we favor a continuation of that policy for the further development and relief of the country, and we demand prompt and liberal appropriations for the improvement of the bar of the Columbia river; also for the entrance to all harbors and bays of our coast, also for the improvement of all our navigable rivers, including the building of necessary locks, to the end that our rivers may be made public highways untrammeled by tolls and unnecessary delays.
7. That all unearned grants to railroads and wagon roads in this state should be forfeited and opened to settlement by those entitled to the benefit of the land laws of the United States.
8. That the laws of Oregon providing for assessment and collecting revenue, including the "mortgage tax law," should be amended so as to insure an equal and just distribution of taxation upon all the property real and personal in the state.
9. That we demand of the next session of the legislative assembly of this state the passage of a more just and efficient mechanics' lien law.
10. We renew our declarations in favor of restricting Chinese immigration to this country and demand such additional legislation by congress as is necessary to effectually prevent any evasion of the laws now in force on that subject.
11. That we favor the enactment of a good and sufficient registry law, to the end that illegal voting may be prevented.
12. That the republicans of Oregon approve all legislation which tends to promote fidelity and efficiency in the civil service of this country, and we declare the republican party pledged to civil service reform.
13. That this convention cordially indorses the administration of President Arthur, whose broad statesmanship and good judgment in the details of administrative duty have won for him the approval of the entire country.

The Nominations.

The chair appointed Shelly of Lane, Dement of Multnomah, Blum of Umatilla and Cleaver of Baker as tellers.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

Binger Hermann of Douglas, J. F. Caples of Multnomah, L. L. Rowland of Marion, C. W. Fulton of Clatsop, George McBride of Wasco and E. B. Watson of Jackson were placed in nomination.

Mr. Hermann was presented by Fullerton of Douglas, who spoke as follows:

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The minority of the house committee on judiciary say in their report on woman suffrage—the report being signed by Reed of Maine, Taylor of Ohio, Browne of Indiana and McCord of Iowa:

"The association of sexes in the family circle, in society and in business, having proved improvable to both, there is neither history, reason or sense to justify the assertion that association in politics will lower the one or damage the other. No reason can worth can be given by those who claim suffrage as a right of manhood which does not make it the right of womanhood also. If suffrage is to be given a man to protect him in his life, liberty and property, the same reasons urge it to be given to woman, for she has the same life, liberty and property to protect."

CARD OF THANKS.

PORTLAND, April 30, 1884.

At a regular meeting of the Mutual Aid Society of the Portland Paid Fire Department, Wednesday evening, April 30, 1884, it was unanimously resolved that the members of the fire department of the city of Portland tender their sincere thanks to Mesdames J. C. Parker, J. Gallagher, G. Langford, C. R. Hoffman and others who kindly furnished coffee and refreshments to the members of the department at the various fires since January 1, 1884.

We Believe

that in this age of competition advertising is absolutely necessary, and we follow the teachings of our belief, and make a liberal use of printers' ink in promulgating the attractiveness of our stock of clothing for men's, youths' and boys' wear, for we actually have goods and bargains worth talking about. At the same time there is such a thing as going to extremes in Advertising.

Blowing one's horn to the extent of several pages of a daily paper, when you have nothing new to say, is an extravagant farce. The public is apt to suspect the house that monopolizes the columns of a daily paper. But we do not propose to write an essay on the art of writing an "ad." We merely wish to call attention to some new goods, and as we have reached the end of our space, we will say, Simply come and see our new spring stock of clothing, furnishing goods, hats, etc.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 1, 1884.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

(Concluded from Third Page.)

in behalf of southern Oregon, and especially in behalf of the republican county of Douglas, which I have the honor in part to represent on the floor of this convention, I desire to present for the consideration of the republican party of Oregon, in convention assembled, the name of a citizen of Douglas county for the nomination of representative to congress, and in doing so it may not be amiss to remind this convention that this is the first time in the history of the republican party of the state of Oregon that our section of the state has come before a republican convention to ask for representation in the halls of congress. And now, Mr. President, the section of country which we have the honor to represent is a great and important section of this state, of an immense territory, of a large and and rapidly increasing population, with 250 miles of sea coast, along which are numerous rivers, bays and harbors requiring the aid of the general government for their improvement; with a commerce second only to that which comes in at the mouth of the Columbia river; the largest and most important timber and lumber interest in the state of Oregon, and the only place where ship building is carried on to any considerable extent; with coal fields from which many thousands of tons of coal are carried to the market; with fisheries upon every stream along our coast—these in connection with our rich agricultural products, with our wool growing interests, our stock raising interests and our mines, merit consideration at the hands of this republican convention. I believe and trust that the republican delegates assembled on this floor will not be deaf to our appeals to them for the election of a representative to congress.

Mr. Chairman, it is not alone on the ground of locality that we seek the nomination. The gentleman whom I have the honor to name as one well worthy to carry the banner of the republican party to victory on the first Monday in June, a gentleman who is a life long republican, a man who has at all times been true to the principles of the republican party; a man of ability; a man who, if nominated by this convention, will make a strong and vigorous canvass of the state of Oregon as any man has ever done that has been nominated by the republican party in times past; a man of industry, perseverance and character; a man who is free from the dictation of railroads and corporations; a man of the people and for the people, and, if nominated by this convention, and elected by the people, will faithfully and impartially represent the best interests of this great state of Oregon. I have the honor to place in nomination the Hon. Binger Hermann, of Douglas county."

Olmstead of Union said: Mr. Chairman, I rise to second the nomination of the gentleman from Douglas. I believe that if this convention will ratify that nomination, that the candidate will march on to victory in June. And be well assured that no act committed by the candidate named will cast any illtimed reflections upon this convention or upon the republican party of Oregon.

Cornelius of Washington said: I wish to place before this convention to day the name of one who, if nominated by this convention, will be elected by the people—that is the name of John F. Caples of Multnomah county.

Wade of Marion said: "Mr. President, I place in nomination L. L. Rowland of Marion county, a gentleman well known throughout Oregon, and who, if nominated, will poll the largest popular vote of any man in the state."

Halloran of Clatsop said: "Mr. President, the next congressman from Oregon will represent, I believe, 300,000 people. We are here from all parts of the state. We are here with the same confidence that the man we place in nomination will be elected—will go to Washington. It is for us to say who the man shall be. The fact that our nominee will be elected makes it all the more incumbent on us to select for our standard bearer a man to whom we can point with pride and say: 'There is our representative.' Such a one I would place in nomination, one who is well worthy to represent the people of Oregon. Without being at all prolix, gentlemen of the convention, I will place in nomination the name of Hon. C. W. Fulton."

Hammond, of Jackson, said: "Mr. Chairman—I rise for the purpose of placing in nomination a man from the extreme southern portion of Oregon, and in doing so I would endorse the better portion of the remarks of my friend from Douglas county. Gentlemen of the convention are aware that Oregon is a great state, and he who receives the nomination at our hands to-day, as remarked by my friend on the left, will represent a constituency that should be represented in the legislative assembly of this nation creditably, honorably, efficiently. I am about to place in nomination a man in whose hands have been placed responsible positions, a man who has been faithful to every trust. I place in nomination the Hon. E. B. Watson, of Jackson county."

Moore of Columbia said: "Mr. Chairman—Last, but by no means least, in any way that constitutes a nobleman, I desire to present the name of a gentleman to the convention for its consideration. In doing so I take into consideration the remarks that gentlemen have made in reference to the several candidates that have been placed in nomination by them; and with all deference to them, and with all deference to their opinions, I still have no hesitancy in mentioning the name which I shall here speak of. The gentleman to whom I allude was born in Oregon, educated here, grew up with the people. He has occupied one of the most responsible positions that has been conferred upon any republican recently, and he has filled that position with credit to himself, with honor to his friends, with satisfaction to his opponents—a man who comes, perhaps, from one particular section of the state, but whose ideas are so broad, so universal, that he can grasp the wants of the people of southern Oregon, of the people all along the Pacific coast, of the people up and down the great Columbia river, of the great agricultural district known as the Willamette valley, the garden spot of the habitable globe, and of that vast region known as 'east of the mountains;' his mind, his ideas are so large he can grasp the wants of all these people and yet do them justice. I allude to Hon. G. W. McBride of Columbia county, who so ably filled the position of speaker of the last house of representatives."

Cleaver of Baker said: Mr. Chairman, I rise to second the nomination of Hon. G. W. McBride. Baker county will cast her five votes for him. I have found him a man true to his friends, true to his constituents—a man of whom no man can say he has a stain on his character in any way whatever, a man that we want, and we desire his nomination at your hands.

Six ballots were taken, as follows, Hermann receiving the nomination on the sixth ballot:

THE SIX BALLOTS.

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th
Hermann	60	84	86	89	98	112
Caples	59	60	57	59	59	61
McBride	27	26	21	36	30	15
Fulton	17	18	14	10	8
Watson	15	15	17	11	9	8
Rowland
Blank		1	3	1	1

So soon as the vote was announced Caples came forward, and in one of his characteristic speeches congratulated the convention and the nominee, and promised his heartiest support to the ticket. He put the delegates in the best of humor, and closed by calling them to their feet and leading in three rousing cheers for Binger Hermann.

Loud calls were made for the nominee, who was greeted with great enthusiasm. Mr. Hermann, on being introduced, said that he had no words to express the gratitude he felt for the honor of the nomination, paid a high tribute to the character of the other gentlemen who had been candidates for the position, promised his best efforts for the victory of the republican ticket in June, and pledged himself, if elected, to serve the people of the entire state honestly and impartially.

The nomination of Mr. Hermann was made unanimous, and the hour of 7 o'clock having been reached, the convention took a recess of one hour.

Evening Session.

The convention reassembled and was called to order at 8:30.

The chairman read a telegram which had been received only a few minutes before, from J. B. Montgomery, giving an epitome of what is contained in THE OREGONIAN'S New York special this morning.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

For presidential electors, Bourne of Multnomah presented D. P. Thompson.

Durham of Wasco presented T. B. Handley.

Humphrey of Grant presented J. C. Leasure of Umatilla.

Snodgrass of Union presented M. Baker of Union.

Kelly of Benton presented W. Truitt of Polk.

Eastham of Clackamas presented W. Cary Johnson of Clackamas.

The ballot resulted: Thompson 120, Johnson 107, Handley 56, Leasure, 131, Baker 79, Truitt 129.

Messrs. Thompson, Truitt and Leasure were declared the nominees.

A motion to adjourn till morning was lost.

SUPREME JUDGE.

Richardson of Wasco presented W. Lair Hill of Wasco.

D. Monastes of Multnomah presented J. W. Whalley of Multnomah.

Hewitt of Linn presented L. Flinn of Linn.

Woodcock of Benton presented John Kelsay of Benton.

Applegate of Douglas presented W. W. Thayer of Multnomah.

The first ballot resulted: Flinn 83, Hill 53, Kelsay 29, Whalley 23, Thayer 6.

On the second ballot Whalley was withdrawn, and the ballot stood Flinn 161, Hill 41, Kelsay 12.

Judge Flinn's nomination was made unanimous.

The following dispatch was read:

ROSEBURG, April 30, 8:30 P. M.—Hon. Binger Hermann: Old Douglas is rejoicing; cannon firing over your success.
W. F. BENJAMIN.

A motion to adjourn till 10 A. M. was carried.

District delegations will meet at the hall at 9 A. M.

THE CONGRESSIONAL NOMINEE.

Hon. Binger Hermann was born in Maryland in 1843 and came to the coast in 1859 with his parents, who settled in Coos county. He moved to Douglas county in 1863, began the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1866. In that year he was elected to the legislature, and in 1858 was chosen state senator for Douglas, Coos and Curry counties.

A Night Encounter with Panthers.

Pall Mall Gazette, March 28.

We have received the following from M. Bombonnel, the renowned panther slayer, dated the 15th inst., Bourra, Algeria: "After the departure of some guests, who had killed three panthers during their stay, I found myself alone, and very much fatigued, when an Arab came to me from the mountains near—this was the 3d—begging me to go and look after a lion that had just devoured one of his cows. As the moon was not sufficiently advanced, I waited a few days, during which two other animals, placed there expressly by the Arabs, had been killed also. (You must bear in mind that in this case one animal is sacrificed to save the entire herd.) On the fifth day, between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, I settled myself in my hiding place, or affut, amid the brushwood. The rain poured down in torrents. I was soon wet through, and also very cold. At 10 o'clock the rain ceased. I heard the borrico I had put as bait suddenly roll over, and a noise of something being dragged. It was a panther that was trying to carry it off into the thicket. I could see nothing. The little open space in my court of brushwood through which my gun passed was stopped up by the weight of the rain bearing down the branches. I very gently made an opening, which caused the panther to lift up its head. I could see its white throat, and took aim. It fell down close by. I recharged my gun, for I could not see if my panther was dead, the moon being hidden by the clouds.

"Half an hour later I heard the noise of some huge animal eating away at the borrico. I lifted the branches as noiselessly as possible, but the intruder took note, and, rising, passed within two yards of my hiding place. I only saw a huge black mass, at which I fired, and effectually. At break of day, on issuing forth from my thicket, I found within a few yards of each other two magnificent panthers, a male and a female. I heartily thanked St. Hubert for having sent me, with the worst weather in the world, a night that was all a hunter could desire. This is the fifth panther killed by myself and guests within a month, to the great joy of the Arabs, whose flocks and herds they have been devastating."

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY, April 30.

Work along the street to-day is largely confined to the filling of orders to go forward by the Idaho and Gipsy. Aside from this trade is quiet. The close of a month is giving merchants its usual bustle.

Overland receipts include 120 pkgs tobacco.

By the Columbia, sailing 26th inst. Cutting shipped 400 cs salmon.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 212 ctls wheat, 104 bbls flour, 872 ctls oats, 137 ctls millstuff, 1118 lbs hides, 122 cs eggs, 40 bxs fruit, 7 bxs butter. Also 5522 ctls wheat, 1500 bbls flour, 685 lbs hides, from the eastern section.

EXPORTS—Per str Oregon to San Francisco: 60,160 ft wood, 2754 ctls wheat, 14,580 bf sks flour, 50 sks onions, 615 sks potatoes, 11 dry hides, 5 bls leather, 5 bls sheepskins, 7 bls deerskins, 2 bls blankets, 1 cs cassimeres, 20 cs 6 bbls tallow, 2881 sks copper ore and mate, 2?8 pkgs bbl mdl, $25,474 treasure.

FREIGHTS—A steady market rules, with asking rates for iron claimed to be firm for 45s direct. The British iron bark Charles Cotesworth was taken up by Meyer, Wilson & Co. to-day for Liverpool direct. She gets 42s 6d, which is below what other iron asks, but the owners wanted only a Liverpool freight, probably on account of her recent experience. Report says a small wooden vessel has been secured for salmon loading June or July.

WHEAT—All advices to-day add to yesterday's general drooping, and are very dull. A season of dullness and probably of lessened values seems to be near at hand. Most operators feared this, and have not been led into new business of any importance. What the next few days will develop is a matter of anxiety to all, and it will be an important factor in price making here. The local market is in no business at this time.

OATS—Arrivals free and the market is only steady at late quotations.

FLOUR—The usual shipment went out by steamer for foreign export, and the Alaskan steamer is calling for the usual amount. Very little movement other than in standards.

POTATOES—Other than in a jobbing way, there is no new business, and values are weak.

POULTRY—Supplies of chickens show some increase but $6@7 is quoted. Other kinds in small movement and inquiry at late values.

EGGS—Plenty coming in, and stocks show some accumulation, yet most holders get 25 cents. We quote 22@25c, with downward tendency.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Oregon sailed at 4:15 A. M., with 1179 tons freight.

The Olive S. Southard went down river at noon, fully loaded and with crew on board. She will doubtless cross out Friday.

The Gipsy sails at 9 A. M. to-morrow, and the Idaho will get away at about the same hour.

The Idaho brought 300 cs codfish and 20 bbls oil from Sitka, and 630 tons coal from Nanaimo.

Markets by Telegraph.

Elephants for Farm Work.

I am pulling along here very well, managed to secure several hundred bushels of coffee more than I had estimated, and this is always pleasant. Value of our crop, about $3300. Never had the pleasure before of working with elephants. Sent away our crop with them this season. I did not intrude myself too much upon their attention. You see I did not feel entitled to the honor of an intimate acquaintance. I treated them with great respect and deference, much the same as a street Arab does a policeman. I can't get over my antipathy to that "traina." The Malay style of feeding elephants has certainly the merit of simplicity. When the day's work is done they are turned out into the jungle to find their own food; and so they go rambling about, all night, pulling and tearing away at any tree or shrub they fancy. When morning comes the drivers, tracing them by their own apparent marks, put the driving hook over their ears and lead them off to work. Elephants seem to graze in a forest quite as contentedly as cattle in a pasture. Their ability to scramble up and down apparently impassable places is wonderful. I never saw any animal before show the intelligence to break a branch off a tree to fan away the flies. They helped themselves to our coffee trees for this purpose.

Deformities, rupture, diseases of the spine, joints and nerves, specially treated. Dr. Stickney, General and Orthopedic Surgeon, Dekum's building, Portland, Or.

THE WORST THINGS IN THE WORLD.

Two of the Saddest Sights Beheld by Mr. Conway in his Tour of the World.

Pall Mall Gazette.

"Now that you have wandered around our planet," said a recent visitor to the hospitable London study of Moncure D. Conway, "what in the course of the whole journey impressed you most painfully?"

"Two things," said Mr. Conway; first, the Sabbatarianism of the Sandwich Islands, and secondly, the spectacle presented at Benares and other great Indian cities of religion gone rotten. Of the two, the former, of course, was much the smaller; but anything more miserable than Honolulu on the sabbath could hardly be imagined. These islands, usually so bright and gay, seemed to be under the influence of a weird enchantment. The windows were shut; no life was heard in the streets; a somber gloom filled the air, the atmosphere was sultry in the extreme, but no ice could be procured for love or money. Missionaries from Boston, a city where the concert rooms and picture gallery are open on Sunday, and where the inhabitants have completely freed themselves from the old Blue laws, have descended upon this hapless island in the far Pacific, and established the Sabbath as a dread demon before whose glance all mirth and innocent pleasure fled far away. A Sabbath, like a great false god, was enthroned in their midst, and woe be to those who did not bow down to it it worship. A more authentic incarnation of the vast indivisible I have seldom beheld. It was omnipresent. You could not escape from it, overshadowing as it did every street corner, etc. Idolatry was set up to be worshiped at the expense of the true spiritual religion. The idol reigned supreme.

The other was far more painful to me, not only because it has much greater proportions, but on account of the cruel contrast it afforded between the ideals of my life-long study and the reality of the present day. Among those shrines," said Mr. Conway, pointing across the billiard table, "you will find all the sacred books of the east, over which I have pored and studied for years. The noble aspirations of those ancient writers, the glowing poetry of the Vedas, the sublime imagery of their seers, have become part of my life. Nor can I ever sufficiently acknowledge my indebtedness for the spiritual life which they have imparted. But when I went to the great cities, the pilgrim shrines to which throng every year millions of those who profess to follow the faith of the men who wrote these books, and mingled with the vast processions of worshipers at the shrines sacred to the deities whose praises are sung by the Hindoo bards, then, alas! the contrast between the real and the ideal was heartbreaking. In all those teeming myriads of worshipers not one man, nor even one woman, seemed to entertain the shadow of a conception of anything ideal, or spiritual, or religious, or even mythological, in their ancient creed; not one glimmer of the great thoughts of their poets and sages lightened their darkened temples. To all of them the great false god which they worshiped, a hulk of roughly carved wood or stone, appeared to be the authentic presentment of some terrible demon or invisible power who would treat them cruelly if they did not give him some melted butter."

Enclose 10 cents and the address of an eastern friend to this office, for the statistical OREGONIAN. The best medium to circulate in the east.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

FORTY YEARS.

GEORGE T. WHITE, Colton, Cal., writes that he has sold WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY FORTY YEARS; that he considers it a valuable preparation; that he does not know a single article that gives greater satisfaction to those who use it, and he does not hesitate to recommend it.

F. M. Towne, San Bernardino, Cal., writes: "WISTAR'S BALSAM has a great number of friends on the Pacific coast that constantly to its excellent qualities."

J. W. JONES, Benicia, Cal., writes: "I have sold Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for over thirty years in this place, and find it one of the few cough medicines that has stood the test of time and which no modern preparation has been able to displace."

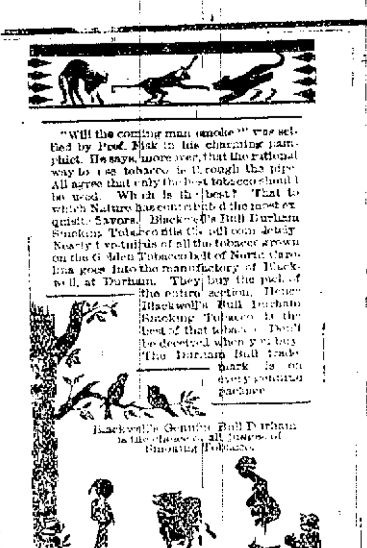
CHARLES B. LUCE, M. D., Genoa, Nevada, writes: "I have used WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for many years in private practice, and consider it an excellent preparation for Coughs, Colds, etc. I cheerfully recommend it."

None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper.

CHEAPEST

Jewelry, Watches, Silverware, Table Cutlery, etc., AT

J. B. MILLER'S, 129 First street.



"Will the coming man smoke?" was settled by Prof. Fisk in his charming pamphlet. He says, moreover, that the rational way to use tobacco is through the pipe. All agree that only the best tobacco should be used. Which is the best? That to which Nature has contributed the most exquisite flavors. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco fills the bill completely. Nearly two-thirds of all the tobacco grown on the Golden Tobacco belt of North Carolina goes into the manufactory of Blackwell, at Durham. They buy the pick of the entire section. Hence Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best of that tobacco. Don't be deceived when you buy. The Durham Bull trade mark is on every genuine package.

Blackwell's Genuine Bull Durham is the choicest of all Brands of Smoking Tobacco.

A SKIN OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER
DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S
ORIENTAL CREAM or Magical Beautifier

Purifies as well as Beautifies the Skin. No other Cosmetic will do it.

Removes Pimples, Freckles, Tan, Moth Patches, Rash & Skin diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 30 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure the preparation is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. The distinguished Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut ton, a patient: "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all skin preparations." One bottle will last six months using it every day. Also, Poudre Subtile removes superfluous hair without injury to the skin. Mme. M. B. T. GOURAUD, Sole Prop., 48 Bond st., N. Y. For sale by all druggists and fancy goods dealers throughout the United States, Canadas and Europe. Beware of base imitations. $1,000 reward for arrest and proof of any one selling same.

POISON

In the blood is apt to show itself in the Spring, and nature should be assisted in throwing it off. Swift's Specific does this effectively. It is a purely vegetable, innocuous remedy, which helps nature to force all the poison or taint out through the pores of the skin.

Mr. Robert A. Easley, of Dickson, Tenn., writes, under date March 25, 1884: "I had chills and fever, followed by rheumatism, for three years, so that I was not able to attend to my business, and tried almost every kind of medicine without any permanent benefit. I took Swift's Specific, and my health became improved. I continued it until I had taken six bottles, and now am free from all the effects of it, and feel as sound and well as ever. I recommend it to all similarly afflicted."

Eleven from twenty three (23) of the leading retail druggists of Atlanta, certify under date March 26, 1884: "We sell more of Swift's Specific than any other one remedy, and three to ten times as much as any other blood medicine. We sell it to all classes, and many of the best families use it as a general health tonic."

I am sure that Swift's Specific saved my life. I was thoroughly poisoned with malaria, and was given up to die. Swift's Specific relieved me promptly and entirely. I think it is the greatest remedy of the age. C. G. SPENCER, Supt. Gas Works, Rome, Ga.

I have known and used Swift's Specific for more than twenty years, and have seen more wonderful results from its use than from any remedy in or out of the Pharmacopœia. It is a certain and safe antidote to all sorts of Blood Poison. J. DICKSON SMITH, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
